

Private Center Academy receives accreditations from 2 associations

Special to Clay Today

ORANGE PARK - Center Academy, a private school for students in grades 6-12, has received accreditations from both the National Independent Private Schools Association (NIPSA) and Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS).

Each organization has a multitude of rigors to be gone through by the school seeking accreditation. The schools says it took a team effort, the directors, teachers, parents and students to get through every phase to completion.

"These accreditations just help us further in our mission of providing students with a learning environment that facilitates the development of self-confidence, motivation, and academic skills, giving students the opportunity to achieve success in life," said Jerry Stigliano, director of Center Academy, 2171 Kingsley Ave.

Center Academy has been serving students for over 40 years and has 12 locations in Florida and Georgia. Call (904) 276-3552 or go online to www.centeracademy.com for more information.

PHOTO SPECIAL TO CLAY TODAY

Administrative Assistant Polly Rhoden and Director Jerry Stigliano helped Center Academy meet NIPSA and SACS Accreditations.